IN THE FALL

The change from summertime leisure to school-year work is a drastic one, but Oakwood students have been making it successfully for years, and 1961 was no exception. The prospect of seeing old friends again — and making new ones — more than compensated for the heavy load of work we faced on September 7, the first day of school. Fall brought beautiful colors to the leaves of our campus trees and a cold nip to the air. Various changes in the curriculum, such as the addition of fourth-year German and Spanish, made school more interesting and broadened our scholastic horizons. Fall also brought the fun and excitement of football games and the traditional spirits accompanying them. With a mixture of work and play, Oakwood students began to measure the year, and the time passing by.

IN THE WINTER

Winter brought the gaiety of Christmas to the halls of Oakwood, and the drudgery of semester exams; snow for the sledding-and-skiing crowd, and slush and ice for student drivers; the gay, mad fun of holiday parties and proms, and the hours of work that went into them. The basketball teams — both intra- and extra-mural — proved a winter rallying point for students' excess exuberance. Sledding parties were in vogue and the Twist was the thing. With the start of a new year, students noticed how fast time was passing and braced themselves for exams. Seniors began trekking to the library in search of material for their term papers — and envying the happy, carefree underclassmen.

IN THE SPRING

Although depressed by the groundhog's prophecy of an additional six weeks of winter, Oakwood students began looking forward to spring. Seniors welcomed the relief of having turned in their research papers and celebrated with their annual "Grub Day" on February 26. Spring sports occupied a large number of the boys, and watching them occupied most of the girls. Still in school primarily for an education, however, students began readying themselves for more College Boards, final exams, and college placement tests. Homework continued to be the most prevalent pastime. Sunny, warm spring weather brought the tennis enthusiasts to the courts. Convertible tops began to go down and tans began to deepen, as seniors counted the days until June second.

AS TIME GOES BY

With underclassmen's grades entered on their permanent record cards and the superintendent's signature written on the Class of 1962's diplomas, the academic year came to a close. All that remained as evidence of the scholastic year that had passed was a pile of books to be checked over and mended. Within the mind and memory of each student, however, much more remained. For the graduates, six years of life at Oakwood had passed, for the seventh graders, just one; but for everyone in our school, something is sure to remain imbedded within him as a memory of Oakwood in 1961-1962 AS TIME GOES BY.

FINAL GRADES go on permanent record cards, thus ending the scholastic year.

ACORN EDITORS Jane Walton and Paula Stone present the first copy of the 1962 ACORN to Dean of Boys J. Mack Hummon.

AS TIME GOES BY

Passing time is clearly reflected in the faces we see at Oakwood. Each year, over one sixth of the people we meet here are new to the school. Each year, a class of graduating seniors has been subtracted and a new class of seventh graders added. New students and faculty members come to us and the faces of those we have known for a long while have changed gradually.

Administrators and Faculty help us achieve our goal

Promoting higher education, an accomplished faculty worked hard to prepare us for college. Six new teachers were added to the faculty this year. They were Mrs. Cox, Miss McNelly, Mr. Potter, Mr. Shearer, Mr. Stuckey, and Miss Tomalin. Also Mr. Christner and Mrs. Ash were welcomed to the guidance department.

Oakwood offered Advanced Placement English in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. Both Russian, taught by Mrs. Braun, and art appreciation, taught by Mr. Carmichael, were introduced to the curriculum.

There was a change in the testing system at Oakwood this year. Teachers were permitted to give tests in their subjects any day of the week, so that they could test students over material as soon as it was covered.

Oakwood students are assured of excellent supervision and are proud of their fine faculty.

For the Class of 1962 the final year at Oakwood High School provided many challenges and memorable experiences all of which helped to prepare the seniors for the future.

The year's activities began with the annual Camp Kern Conference, where students discussed Oakwood's public image and how it could be improved. In the exciting football season which followed, car caravans packed with cheering students led the team on to victory. The climax of the football season was reached when Sheila Wall was crowned Homecoming Queen.

After Senior Day, when seniors visited several of Dayton's largest businesses and industries, the seniors began working on their play, The Jury Room — the first mystery play Oakwood had produced for many years.

The important social event of the first semester was the Senior Prom, "Twelfth Night." A glittering chandelier, three dimensional murals, and festive greens transformed the gym into the perfect setting for the dance, over which Chris Harlan and Jeff Kunst reigned.

The middle of the year was marked by a series of tests — College Boards, Senior Scholarship Tests and midterm exams. The class excelled scholastically in the Senior Scholarship Tests when George Purcell placed third in the state and Fred Buhl, twentieth. Thirty-four seniors received honorable mention. The class further distinguished itself in the Merit Scholarship Tests with four seniors as semifinalists—Fred Buhl, Tony Fitch, George Purcell and Jane Walton.

Returning from the Christmas holidays, the seniors studying civics spent a day visiting the court house and the county jail. Following this, they started on their research themes and spent long hours in the library gathering reference material. As a relief from their studies, the seniors found time to attend basketball games and the traditional "Basket Ball" held at the Oakwood "Y."

As the school year draw to a close, the class looked forward to the traditional planting of the ivy, Baccalaureate, and the commencement ceremony itself. On June 2, as the seniors marched down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance," each person recalled his most memorable experiences at Oakwood High School.

Extra-curricular activities interest seniors

OUR FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT from Brazil, Anita Ribeiro, explains the different parts of her country's flag to Patsy Herrman and Judy Lane.

The final year at Oakwood High School will be remembered by the seniors as a combination of serious study, preparation for college, parties and dances, participation in school and "Y" activities, and good times with friends—both new and old.

A COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVE from Princeton answers questions of interested students.

In the course of their final year at Oakwood High School, the seniors assumed the responsibility of leadership in the school. As officers of school clubs, discussion leaders, and committee chairmen, they devoted their time to preparing programs and assemblies of interest to the student body. By actively participating as members of clubs and discussion groups, the seniors shared their ideas with the other students to make these activities more worthwhile. As players on varsity and intramural teams they demonstrated the importance of team spirit and good sportsmanship. By maintaining an excellent record of academic achievement, they set high standards for the entire school. When Commencement marked the end of the seniors' years at Oakwood High School, the Class of 1962 had indeed proved itself capable of assuming the responsibilities of the future.

Juniors prepare for senior high leadership

Throughout this year the junior class — under the leadership of President Pete Willsey, Vice-President John Tuck, Secretary Kathy Oelman, and Treasurer Jack Kneisley—has shown a great deal of enthusiasm in various clubs and school programs.

Academically, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, given in October, followed by the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in March and the Scholastic Aptitude Test in May, provided an opportunity for the juniors to excel and prove their abilities. Then, the class was assigned research themes on a variety of subjects. Four weeks of intensive note-taking and reading resulted in the completion of the themes.

Musically and artistically the juniors demonstrated their talents. Many participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts by singing in the chorus and glee clubs. The ensembles, comprised of junior girls and boys, added their notes to the program. Displaying interest in art was Bill Yarger, who won an award for his outstanding work in watercolor.

Promoting school spirit were cheerleaders Leslie Bahl and Margot Herbruck. Many of the various athletic teams attracted the junior boys, and fourteen received letters in football, basketball, or cross-country. Not to be outdone by the boys, the junior girls played hockey, volleyball, basketball, and tennis. Both the boys and girls took part in intramural programs. The Spanish Flyers intramural basketball team was runner-up for the championship.

The wild and wooly West lent an imaginative and colorful theme for the Junior Prom in February. Co-Chairmen Terry Heitz and Dave Wilson led the round-up Cimarron, while dancing girls, fugitives, gold miners, and cowboys decorated the gym. In addition to the activities at school, the juniors took an active part in the dance, New Year's Nonsense, and in May they had an exciting time working together for the annual Beach-comber's Ball for the seniors. Both parties were at the Oakwood Y.

They also performed on stage, presenting Our Miss Brooks in March. Student-directing the play were Barbara Deck and Donn Ardery.

New opportunities opened for the juniors in the form of clubs and organizations. Ten members of the class were inducted into the National Honor Society and several joined the Acorn staff, thus making them eligible for Quill and Scroll. A Journal-Herald Trophy for excellent reporting was given Donn Ardery of the Oak Leaf staff because of his story written at the Conference of the Journalism Association for Ohio Schools.

With this year completed, the juniors are sincerely grateful to their class adviser, Mr. Johnson, for all his assistance. They are now looking forward to the leader-ship and responsibilities of their senior year at Oakwood High School.

Sophomores initiate new projects

Sophomores adjusted quickly to the senior high curriculum. Various members of the class distinguished themselves in numerous extracurricular activities at Oakwood.

The vocal music department interested many students. As chorus and glee club members, they worked diligently and supported the groups at contests. Representing the class was the sophomore girls' ensemble which performed at the winter and spring concerts. Ruth Updegraff and Sarah Kirgis were awarded A ratings as soloists in the district music contest, receiving recognition for their work.

Other talents in the class were recognized: George Rab and Kathy Fisher won gold key awards at the Scholastic Art Show in Cincinnati. As members of the A debate team, Jack Riley, Joe Chamberlain, and Gordon Fain represented Oakwood at the state finals. Emily Brower participated in the finals in the extemporaneous speaking division and won second place in the state.

Although diligent students, the sophomores balanced their academic life with athletic and social interests. Sophomore members of the football and reserve basketball teams were ardently cheered on by the sophomore cheerleaders: Ann Douglass, Ruth Carey, Kathy Huxley, Diane Schaeffer, and Sally Altenburg. Jim Stuhlman and Ken Stillwagon played regularly on the varsity basketball team.

Two new projects which will be handed down to succeeding classes were started by this year's sophomores. The social calendars formerly sold by the Senior High Student Council were vended this year by the industrious sophomores. They also conducted a student bookstore of worthwhile paperbacks for purchase by senior high students. With the profits from these projects, the class helped defray the expense of their prom, Springtime in the Alps, presented in April under the co-chairmanship of Bill Brundige and Lois Loucks.

Freshmen add spirit to Junior High

Spirit and determination were characteristics of the freshman class this year. By earnestly pursuing homework and extracurricular activities, they showed themselves to be able leaders of the junior high.

In football and basketball the ninth grade teams worked hard to have a good season. Showing great promise, Mark and Steve Wentworth, Woody Wagner, and Rich Mandas played on the varsity football squad this season. Spurred on by cheerleaders Ronnie Krumholtz, Ann Halsted, Ann Lambert, and Mary Barker, the teams brought pride to Oakwood.

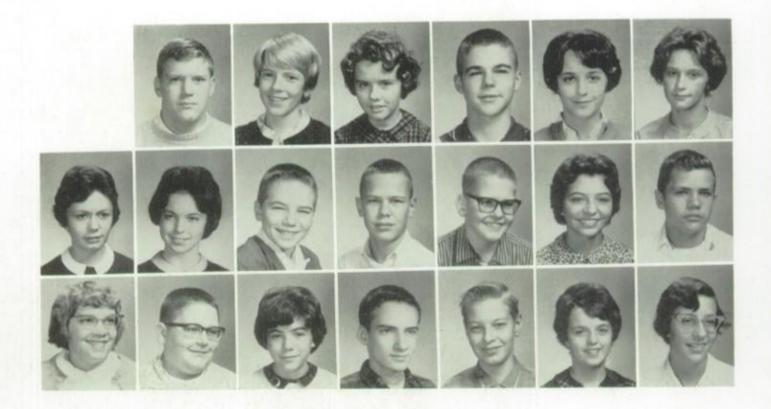

Many students also participated in other school activities. The newly formed freshman boys' ensemble was quite successful this year in winning an "A" rating in the district contest. Linda Taylor was outstanding in her accomplishments as a majorette and member of the Blackhawks.

Academically the class faced a challenging curriculum this year. Many students who had taken algebra last year continued their advanced schedule with geometry. Some as members of the eighth and ninth grade seminar discussed world problems in their weekly meetings. By taking every pupil tests, mental maturity tests, and the California Aptitude tests, the students have laid the groundwork for the decisive College Boards and college admission.

Seventh and Eighth Grade Enjoy Junior High Program

Adjusting to curriculum changes quickly, the eighth grade continued to progress in all school activities. Many students in the class took advanced mathematics courses and attended the eighth and ninth grade seminar to discuss world problems. Students were able to show their spelling prowess at the annual spelling bee held in the spring. Although industrious in academic areas, the class rounded out their interests by participating in the choir, band, and various sports.

New subjects and activities challenged the seventh grade this year. The students quickly adjusted to homework, football games, the changing of classes, and the bustle of junior high halls. One of the outstanding projects which the class undertook was to raise money for the international hospital ship Hope by supporting bake sales and sponsoring dances. The interest and participation which this class has shown will help to prepare them for eighth grade responsibility.

AS TIME GOES BY

Weekly meetings, hours of prom committee work, weeks of preparation for an interscholastic speech contest are all a part of extracurricular life at Oakwood. The experience gained from activities becomes an invaluable and integral part of our characters. The opportunity to assume responsibility and a necessary break in the daily study routine make time spent in activities worthwhile.

Service, scholarship, character, and leadership are the four words engraved on the National Honor Society pin each member receives at his induction. These words symbolize ideals for the members of the NHS. Twenty-three juniors and seniors were inducted this year in a ceremony prepared by the sixteen previously selected members.

The NHS took on several new projects this year. One of these was an assembly to show a selected group of the new paintings purchased by the Pen and Brush Club and JCOWA. The society introduced a plan by which members are able to assist the substitute teachers in study halls and help out in the library.

A set of machines vending notebook paper were in use for the second year. NHS planned to purchase a machine vending pencils and ballpoint pens. Until that time members sold pencils during the lunch hour and held several homeroom pencil sales. As in previous years, the profits from the sales were used to purchase scholarship test awards.

The social activities of the society included the Christmas tea and the picnic in the fall for the old members.

Councils represent opinions of student body

The Senior Student Council, representing the senior high student body, has approved and initiated many projects this year, with the assistance of their adviser, Mr. Runkel. The "Lumberjack Log," a booklet listing the history, customs, rules, and regulations of Oakwood High School, was published in April as their major project.

Students had the opportunity to place their suggestions concerning the improvement of the school in the council box in the senior high hall. Worthwhile suggestions were then discussed and acted upon by the council members. The council also helped organize the Homecoming dance and coordinate the AFS Student-Faculty Basketball Game.

The Junior Student Council, comprised of nineteen junior high homeroom representatives and advised by Mr. McGowan, discussed improvements of school citizenship and acted as guides for PTA meetings.

Both councils met weekly, the senior high in the morning and the junior high before school. They took charge of selling activity tickets and sponsored all school charity fund drives.

NFL captures numerous trophies and awards

NFL OFFICERS — Ken Caldwell, Vice-president; Emily Brower, Secretary; Barbara Antheil, President; Wally Judd, Treasurer — do research for a debate topic. Absent: Jack Riley, Historian.

The National Forensic League was begun in Oakwood in 1930. Through the years the members have been very active in speech events, and this year was no exception. Forty-five members participated actively in speech events such as debate, oratorical declamation, humorous interpretation, and extemporaneous speaking. Under the guidance of Mr. Loren Shearer, they captured many trophies and honors.

Members of the debate teams began work on their debate topic, Federal Aid to Education, during the summer. Extensive research was done in preparation for the competition beginning in December. Those partcipating in other speech events were organized at the end of November. Practice tournaments for all speech events were then held from December through February. The March district finals determined those eligible for the state finals. From the eight speakers who went to the state finals, Emily Brower placed second in Girls' Extemporaneous, and Barbara Antheil placed fifth in Dramatic Declamation. Members participating in contests were rewarded for their hard work with numerous trophies and awards.

Quill and Scroll provides insight into journalism

Quill and Scroll began its year in late January with a dinner at the Yum-Yum, when nine new members were inducted into the organization. To meet membership qualifications, members were required to be in the upper third of their class and to have exhibited outstanding journalistic ability. The induction ceremony presented by the old Quill and Scroll members included an explanation of the history and goals of the organization.

The program committee for Quill and Scroll arranged many varied programs for the noon meetings. Miss Campbell showed slides from her recent trip to Spain, and Mr. Omer Johnson, the editor of the Kettering-Oakwood Times, spoke about running a newspaper and made several suggestions for improving the Oak Leaf. Later in the year members of the Acorn and the Oak Leaf exchanged information about their production of their respective publications and visited a newspaper and a printing company. Programs such as these gave Quill and Scroll members new insight into the field of journalism.

QUILL AND SCROLL OFFICERS — Patsy Herrman, Secretary; Jack Loschert, Vice-president; and Liz Johnson, President — plan programs for future meetings.

Liz Johnson, Anne Rieger, Pam Grange, and Patsy Herrman look on as Jane Thiele draws up her printer's dummy.

The production of the 1962 ACORN actually began last spring when the advisers, Miss Crisman and Mr. Potter, organized the staff of eight seniors and four juniors. The new staff began work on the yearbook right away by selecting a photographer, discussing plans for the dummy with Mr. Brier, Associates Engravers, and by selecting the theme for the annual.

Members of the staff kept busy throughout the summer soliciting ads and taking pictures. When school began in the fall, the editor of each section received his dummy, showing the arrangement of pictures and copy for each page. They also learned their duties and responsibilities. First they had to draw up a copy of the dummy for the printer and schedule pictures. After the pictures were taken and were returned from the photographer, cropped to fit the space in the dummy and then identified. As the year progressed the staff began to write copy for the various sections. This copy was typed, proofread, and sent to the printer to be set in type.

In addition to working on their dummies the staff had to choose a cover for the book. This was an extremely controversial issue as a design for the cover and colors had to be agreed upon. By the end of April all sections were sent in. However the work was not finished yet, for the pages had to be returned, proofread, and again sent to the printer for the complete assembly of the book.

Miss Crisman, Jane Walton, and Paula Stone make adjustments on the layout of the opening section.

Colors for the cover of the yearbook are being discussed by by Margaret McSwiney, Sally Hadeler, Don Kepler, and Margot Herbruck. The income from ads is checked by Jack Loschert, Marianna Miller, Jayne Baker, and Mr. Potter.

The Oak Leaf Staff organized last fall consisted of eleven students. Weekly reporting assignments were made to each member of the staff, who was responsible for filling a specified number of inches on a page. All members of the staff worked hard to write articles of interest and value to the student body.

Each member was also responsible for getting ads to help finance the paper. After the stories and headlines were written, accompanying pictures taken and ads gathered, the whole paper was given a final check by the Co-Editors, Sibyl Harris and Judy Lane. Every other Friday the papers were delivered to the school and distributed to the subscribers. A lot of cooperation and hard work was required for the staff to produce the successful paper. Miss Crisman was editorial adviser; Mr. Potter, business adviser.

THE OFFICERS OF JCOWA — Tony Fitch, President; Mary Michaelson, Vice-president; Patsy Herrman, Secretary; and Dave Wilson, Treasurer — discuss the agenda for the next meeting.

The Junior Council on World Affairs has completed a very active and interesting year. There were several major interscholastic activities. Delegates to the High School Institute held in November discussed world problems and heard a speaker on the Berlin situation. In early March Oakwood JCOWA members were delegates and ambassadors to the Model General Assembly. They represented the countries in the Soviet bloc. The delegates took the views of the country which they represented.

During spring vacation JCOWA members earning a specified number of points went on a study tour to Washington and New York. This event climaxed the JCOWA year.

The bi-weekly noon meetings of JCOWA were changed this year. Every other week, members met after school in the library. This gave additional time for the programs. At these meetings speakers talked about the "New Look of Europe," the main topic for the year. After this the members were divided into groups with discussion leaders. The club greatly benefited from this type program for learning about Europe.

The Pen and Brush Club, under the direction of Mr. Carmichael and the leadership of the officers, again sold stationery to carry out its planned projects. The profits from the stationery were used to buy pictures for the school and to finance a spring trip to Toledo.

Several art students again represented Oakwood at the Scholastic Art Exhibit in Cincinnati. The following students received awards: Kathleen Fisher, George Rab, Bill Yarger, James Rupp, Steve Chappell, Jim Coughlin, Nancy Jo Morris, and Jane Holloway. Many of the art students displayed their work at the Four Arts Exhibit held at Oakwood each year.

The Pen and Brush Club is open to all senior high students taking art classes. The main purpose of the club is to supply the art students with better art supplies and to increase art appreciation at Oakwood.

Varsity O pep assemblies create school spirit

The blue and gold jackets and white letter sweaters, often seen in the halls of OHS and in our community, were worn by the members of the Varsity O, a club composed of boys who have shown outstanding participation in interscholastic athletic contests.

The Varsity O undertook several service projects for the student body during the 1961-62 school year. Early in the fall members polished the trophies and placed them in the new cases in the main hall. With capable officers leading the organization's activities, they promoted more school spirit. During several homeroom pep assemblies the members led the student cheering section and prompted interest in the interscholastic football and basketball teams.

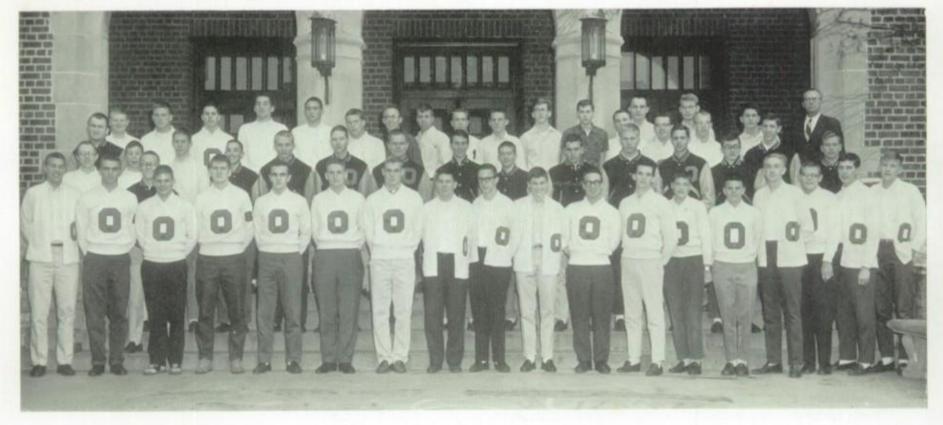

The club also participated in several other activities. A new award for the most valuable all around senior athlete was initiated under the suggestion of the student council. The senior members also held a banquet to honor their coaches, principals, and athletic director. In the spring special recognition was given to the cheerleaders for their support and spirit. In addition to athletics and service projects Varsity O held several social events to round out an eventful year.

CHESS CLUB OFFICERS — Bill Treat, Vice-President; M. Cato, adviser; George Purcell, President; Bob Pryor, Secretary; Arthur Peters, Treasurer.

The Chess Club, in its fifth year, has nearly sixty members which occasionally meet during the noon hours to play a game or two of chess. Under the direction of Mr. Cato, the members are advised with tips to improve their game. The club is open to students from grades seven through twelve. Dues are paid once a year, from which new chess sets are purchased. The chess boards are made by industrial arts students.

A tournament is held annually to establish a chess team which enters the city league tournament in chess. The team this year was composed of George Purcell, Alan Worth, Bill Treat, Bob Pryor and Art Peters. It came in first in the city league, out of thirty-five high schools entered in the tournament. The final match was played with Fairview High School, whom they beat by a score of 5-0.

This year the Red Cross members devoted much time and effort to service projects for the benefit of the less fortunate. In this capacity they had a full and rewarding year. To start off the year they held an assembly after school showing a movie about the S. S. Hope, a medical ship traveling around the world giving aid by treatments and supplies for the needy. Following the movie a collection was taken and the money was donated to the funds for the S. S. Hope. The members were also of service as they made invitations and favors for a Christmas party at the Retarded Children's Home, and favors for patients in hospitals. During the year they sold Oakwood High book covers as a money making project. The profit they made was donated to a fund designed to help the poor and needy people around the world.

The program committee organized many interesting and informative meetings. Speakers informed the members about retarded children as well as about the many services of the National Red Cross and its operations in East Germany. In addition they participated in the Dayton and Montgomery County Red Cross Rally. There members exchanged information concerning the activities of various Red Cross groups in the county. The Red Cross completed its year with a sense of accomplishment.

MAJORETTES — Chris Wentzel, Mary Lou Mellinger, Marianna Miller, Carolyn Schaible, Donna Barnes, Linda Taylor, Sharon Beckman.

The Junior and Senior Bands, under the direction of Mr. Walker, can be heard practicing daily for the many events in which they perform throughout the year. The Senior Band has class four times a week, and the Junior Band, in preparation for Senior Band, has class once a week.

During the fall, many noons, afternoons, and evenings are dedicated to preparing for a coming football game. The band and majorettes performed at each game during the season. The six majorettes, under the direction of drum majorette Carolyn Schaible, practiced daily with the Senior Band in preparation for the games. The Pep Band, consisting of several members of the Senior Band, practiced separately for pep assemblies and senior high homeroom assemblies at which they played.

After football season, preparation was begun for the winter band concert. Also the Senior Band visited Cleveland for several days in December, where they entered a contest, being one of the few high school bands invited to participate. While in Cleveland, the band taped some of their music and have sold many recordings.

As spring came the Senior Band started working on the spring concert and the Lawn Fete, an annual event in the stadium. Food and trinkets were sold, and games for children were set up to raise money for the band. In April the Senior Band entered a contest at Fairview High School, and was rated excellent.

Many members of the bands take private music lessons and often enter contests as soloists, adding additional honors to the Oakwood Band.

Choirs present annual Christmas Concert

The vocal music department, directed by Mr. Uhl, had a very active year. There were contests and concerts which required the learning of new music and the perfection of old songs. Soon after the beginning of the school year the members of the groups were arranged in the appropriate section according to their voice range.

Then came the preparation for the annual Christmas Concert December 17. The choirs, glee clubs, and ensembles began in October their preparation of the traditional Christmas favorites and also several new numbers. The Senior High Choir highlighted the program with the singing of "He is Born" and "Ring Out Those Christmas Bells."

In March they went to the district finals, and all groups received superior ratings. With April came their final appearance, the annual Spring Concert.

The Senior Choir chose as its officers John White, President; Karen Alexander, Vice-President; Wallace Judd, Secretary; Mary Houser and Rich Pohl, Librarians, who were in charge in the absence of Mr. Uhl.

Lynn Jensen and Margaret Kirgis were presidents of of the Seventh and Eighth Choruses respectively. The Boys' Glee Club selected Steve Chappell as president, Ric Bieser as vice-president, and Dave Wilson as secretary. Vonnie Lingle was president of the Girls' Glee Club; Cheryl Wirshing and Sibyl Harris were elected secretary and vice-president.

Seniors produce a mystery play, "The Jury Room"

Demonstrating one way by which the murder might have been committed, Natalie Hollister, playing the part of the accused murderess Julie Fletcher, pretends to stab her uncle, portrayed by Ken Caldwell, as the members of the jury observe carefully.

For the first time in many years, a mystery play, The Jury Room, was produced on the Oakwood stage. The final selection of the play was made by Mrs. Signe Wood and the senior class officers.

After a week of try-outs the two casts were chosen. Many rehearsals at noon and after school preceded the performances on December 12 and 13. The casts were advised and instructed by Mrs. Wood and the student directors, Susie Krug and Jack Loschert. In addition to the members of the cast, most of the senior class took part in the production of the play as members of the technical staff, publicity committee, or business staff. All of these students helped to make the play successful.

The setting of the play was in a jury room. The jury was deliberating the guilt of Julie Fletcher concerning the murder of her rich uncle. Various members of the jury acted out ways by which the crime might have been committed. In the end it was discovered that the murderer was a member of the jury.

The senior class enjoyed and profited from working together on their last play.

Juniors present first play "Our Miss Brooks"

This year the Junior Class presented Our Miss Brooks, their first dramatic production. The play, adapted from the original material of R. G. Mann by Christopher Sergel, portrayed the difficulties and rewards of a school teacher putting on a class play.

Our Miss Brooks had two complete casts, involving thirty-eight juniors in actual acting parts. Assisting Mrs. Signe Wood were the two student directors, Donn Ardery and Barbara Deck. Forty juniors worked behind stage, as ushers, or in preparing for the play. The technical staff, headed by Bill Briggs, managed the lighting and sound effects, and Ron Schwartz, as stage manager, kept order back stage. Tom Houpt, head of properties, arranged the many props.

The Juniors enjoyed giving the play so much that they later presented it for several organizations including the State Hospital and Bethany Lutheran Village. Some of the proceeds from the play were generously given to AFS.

John Tuck looks guilty as his basketball coach, Pete Willsey, finds him in detention in the room of Miss Brooks, played by Elaine Collier.

The casts of the junior play are gathered to discuss details of the coming production.

At halftime of the October 13 game with Eaton, the 1961 Homecoming Court was presented. The five senior girls — Karen Alexander, Nancy Hoyne, Paula Stone, Sheila Wall, and Jane Walton — were driven around the the track in gleaming new Cadillac convertibles, driven by five scholastically high-standing senior boys — George Purcell, Fred Buhl, David Neilsen, Ted Parker, and Jeff Daneman. Each girl was escorted across the field on the arm of her respective escort — Tom Douglass, Dave White, Rich Pohl, Mike Schaeffer, and Tony Fitch.

Sheila Wall was crowned 1961 Homecoming Queen, elected by the senior boys. She was presented with the traditional crown, kiss, and bouquet of roses by John White, football team captain. After a serenade from the band, the court retired to special seats on the sidelines.

Postgame dancing to Buddy Webb's band honored the court and returning alumni. General chairman of Homecoming activities was Tom Douglass.

Culmination of the 1961-62 basketball season was marked by the BasketBall at the Oakwood Y, February 23, after the last game. The court of four senior girls — elected by the entire senior class — and the queen — selected by the senior boys — were honored at the dance. The girls, wearing corsages of large white chrysanthemums with blue and gold ribbons, were escorted by the senior members of the basketball team — Bob Brundige, Tom Douglass, Jeff Kunst, and Dave White, whom they had elected king.

After Carol Boswell was named BasketBall Queen the seniors, under the direction of Jack Loschert, danced to "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes at Me!" and "Washington and Lee Swing," a Roaring 'Twenties number, for the entertainment. The court joined the dancers for the finale.

The senior class, headed by Co-Chairmen Bob Cowden and Carol Boswell, were in charge of the Basket-Ball festivities.

Three proms highlight social events of school year

Twelfth Night – the Senior Prom presented December 19 – incorporated the motif from the song "The Twelve Days of Christmas" into a medieval setting. Light, gay pastel colors – predominantly greens and blues accented with gold foil – added to the festive atmosphere. "Partridges in pear trees" ornamented the round tables, while the murals made of cut paper with three-dimensional touches depicted the traditional lords, ladies, pipers, drummers, French hens, swans, turtle doves, and milkmaids of the song. The colly birds and geese-a-laying became the bankboard decorations; the five golden rings appeared in a cedar rope and gold-prism chandelier suspended from the ceiling.

A throne built in layers with a canopy and large carved chairs for the king and queen dominated the center of the gym. The deep blue drapery carried out the theme and the mood of the regal setting. Wassail bowls and fruitcake added authenticity to the refreshment plan. Entertainment, although not medieval in tone, also followed the "Twelve Days" theme. Miss Donna Lee Clark, local choreographer and dance instructor, helped with the various dance numbers.

Co-chairmen, Chipper Ludwick and Jeff Kunst, along with the many committees, worked very hard on the various aspects of the prom.

Chris Harlan and Jeff Kunst reign as king and queen of the Senior Prom, Twelfth Night.

The Junior Prom Cimarron brought a flair of the Old West to Oakwood. Murals of Western characters, a wooden corral, and a rugged bar with swinging doors greeted the dancers as they entered the gym. Betty Blanford and Tom Hager, crowned king and queen, observed the entertainment from the platform of a caboose which served as the throne. The entertainment, in line with the theme of the prom, presented dance hall girls, cowboys, and western ladies and gentlemen giving an exhibition waltz. The various committies were organized and coordinated by the co-chairmen, Terry Heitz and Dave Wilson.

Springtime in the Alps was the theme of the Sophomore Prom on April 7. Meeting the new job of presenting a prom, the Sophomores decorated the gym with Swiss creations. Scenes of the Alps were shown in the murals. Other reminders of Switzerland, including a Swiss cuckoo clock and a ski jump, presented the desired atmosphere. Committees were organized by Lois Loucks and Bill Brundige, co-chairmen of the prom. The entertainment consisted of a variety of Swiss folk dances, performed by members of the sophomore class who were assisted in their preparations by Mrs. Albert Parker.

Varsity cheerleaders create enthusiasm at games

Increasing school spirit during the football and basketball seasons, Oakwood's six varsity cheerleaders practiced hard and cheered loudly. These girls, two juniors and four seniors, worked under the direction of their captain, Karen Alexander.

Selected last spring, the cheerleaders prepared during the summer months for the coming football season by perfecting old cheers and by making up new ones. During the season they made victory tags and organized car caravans to the away games. Their duties also included making announcements about each game and taking charge of the flag raising ceremony before each football game. Soon after the football season came the basketball season, which culminated in the Class AA tournament game at the U. D. fieldhouse, where the team played Roosevelt. Here the cheerleaders performed their last cheers for the year. Besides leading the student body at football and basketball games, the girls also cheered at the many pep assemblies and send-offs.

As a token of appreciation for their spirit and enthusiasm, gold megaphone charms were presented to the cheerleaders by the Oakwood Booster Club, and silver initialed discs were given to them by the Varsity O. These gifts were presented at a basketball banquet at which the cheerleaders were guests.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS — Ruth Carey, Diane Schaeffer, Ann Douglass, Kathy Huxley, and Sally Altenburg.

Cheerleaders perfect cheers to create school spirit

The five reserve cheerleaders, headed by Kathy Huxley, added variety to the basketball season with their many new cheers, such as "I saw a Lumberjack," and with their new ways of doing old cheers.

Cheering the successful ninth grade football and basketball teams on to victory were Mary Barker, Ronni Krumholtz, Ann Halsted, and Ann Lambert, the freshman cheerleaders.

Representing the seventh graders were Janet Fanning, Bitsy Carpenter, and Terrell Kepler, and for the eighth grade were Barbara Crawford, Judy Herbruck, and Margaret Kirgis. These three groups worked hard to create enthusiasm for their teams.

AS TIME GOES BY

Regular practice and strict training are an inherent part of the athletic program at Oakwood. The hours, days, months, even years spent in preparation for a sporting event are far greater than the ten seconds to two hours spent in the actual contest. From a broiling hot football practice field in August to a lush green golf course in May, for Oakwood athletes, time has gone by.

COACHES CARR, WYSOCKI, and Armbruster supervise an afternoon practice session.

Jacks work hard, sacrfice

AUGUST SUN BROILS Jacks during pre-season workout.

The 1961 Oakwood gridders, led by head coach Wysocki and assistants Armbruster and Carr, compiled a 5-4-1 record, taking 6th place in the Southwestern Buckeye League, and gave their fans many an exciting moment on ten Friday evenings during the fall.

The nucleus of the squad was formed by ten returning senior lettermen, who filled most of the offensive positions. Defensively many important positions were filled by underclassmen, including five freshmen.

Pre-season predictions were only mediocre, but the Jacks looked like they might go all the way to the SWBL title until injuries began to take their toll. The Jacks were plagued by injuries to key personnel during the entire season, but coach Wysocki simply adjusted the offense or defense to suit the situation, and team skill and spirit did the rest.

Starting formal practices on August 18, the Jacks sweated and strained to get into shape, then made good showings in their pre-season scrimmages against Kiser and Beavercreek. Steve Chappell and Bob Brundige were named permanent co-captains at a pep assembly before the first game, and that night the season got under way at Lebanon.

This year's only non-SWBL opponent, Lebanon succumbed to the Jack onslaught by the score of 46-14. Quarterback Chappell threw for four touchdowns, all in the first half; the reserves saw a lot of action in the final periods.

In the Jacks' first league game, West Carrollton gave in to the powerful Oakwood offense 48-0. Behind the blocking of such line stalwarts as center Bill DeMarse, guards Wally Judd and Bill Higgins, and tackles Jeff Wentworth and Bob Stein, the backfield ran up 298 yards rushing, and Chappell threw three more touchdown passes.

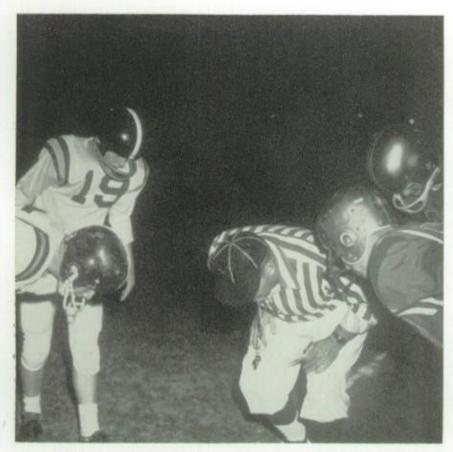

The Jacks faced their first serious threat at Tipp City. Ahead 8-0 at halftime by virtue of Chappell's pass to end Doug Lane, Oakwood managed to score only once more on a pass to Seibert in the third period. Tipp came back strong in the second half with two scores, however, and at the final gun it was Oakwood 16, Tipp City 14, the difference measured in extra points.

At home the following weekend, Oakwood faced an inspired team from Northridge. The Polar Bears scored in the first quarter, but the Jacks come back on a Chappell pass to John White in the second period. The conversion failed, and at the half the score stood 6-6. After the intermission Oakwood broke into the lead on a 15 yard run by Brundige, but Northridge scored in the last period to tie the game at 12-12, the final score. The scoring distribution and the fact that neither team scored extra points is a good indicator of the evenness of this match.

Oakwood and Vandalia, two of the strongest contenders for the SWBL crown, met in a crucial contest at Vandalia on October 6. Fans from both schools filled the stands to capacity, for in addition to being a "must" game for Oakwood because of the Jacks' record-blemishing tie, it was also Vandalia's homecoming.

The gridders did little to relieve the fans' tension, however, for after a hotly contested first half the score stood Oakwood 0, Vandalia 0. After the homecoming program, Vandalia got its offense rolling, scoring 12 points in the third quarter, then adding 14 more in the final period. Oakwood scored once in the fourth period on a Chappell pass to Coleman. Final score: Oakwood 6, Vandalia 26.

Smarting from their first defeat, the Jacks came back against Eaton despite the fact that injuries were beginning to be felt. Oakwood scored twice, in the second and final periods, on runs of 2 and 30 yards, both by Bob Brundige. Both conversions were made good to complete the Jack scoring at 16 points. Eaton scored in the third quarter, but the Oakwood team quelled any hope of a rally, and the final score stood at 16-6 in Oakwood's favor.

At Northmont, on the first really cold night of the season, Oakwood got off to a slow start. The Thunderbolts started quickly, however, and scored twice in the first half, kicking both conversions for a 14 point lead at the half.

Inspired by the coaches at halftime, the Jacks warmed to their task in the final half, scoring twice on Doug Seibert's runs of 75 and 3 yards. The extra point opportunities were good for two points each, and late in the fourth quarter Oakwood led 16-14. But Northmont refused to yield, striking paydirt in the final minutes to cop the victory 20-16.

The Jacks returned home to meet Trotwood on October 26 with a new offense designed to counteract the weakness imposed by the injury to quarterback Chappell's very useful right arm. But Trotwood would not be denied.

Scoring a demoralizing 16 points in the first quarter, they led at the half 22-0. The Jacks recovered from the shock too late, scoring only in the final period on a 40 yard run by fullback Brundige, and at the gun the score stood Oakwood 6, Trotwood 22.

The Jacks met rival West Milton on the Milton field. The Bulldogs grabbed the lead early in the first quarter, and made the conversion good for two points. Steve Chappell threw to halfback Jack Cheney on a play that covered 54 yards for a touchdown, but Oakwood failed to convert, and the score at the half was 8-6, the Jacks trailing.

The third quarter was scoreless for both teams, but early in the fourth period Bob Brundige broke loose on a fine run for 75 yards and a touchdown. The extra points were secured, and the Jacks were on top 14-8. The relentless Milton offense would not be stopped, though, and after a long drive the Bulldogs broke through to score, tying it up at 14-14.

Then, with less than five minutes left on the clock, Milton recovered an Oakwood fumble, and started to grind out the yards to the goal in a race against the clock. The Bulldogs scored, failed to convert the extra points, and kicked off to the Jacks with almost no time on the clock. Not even a Chappell desperation pass could save this one though, and the final score was Oakwood 14, West Milton 20.

In the final game of the season the Jacks took on Brookville at home. Three Oakwood players — ends Bob Carpenter and Doug Lane, and back Doug Seibert combined for five touchdowns in the 34-0 romp. Quarterback Steve Chappell threw for four of the scores, and in so doing set a new school record in touchdown passes with 16. This new record replaces Frank Sargeant's mark of 15, set in 1954.

In post-season happenings, many members of the 1961 Jack grid were honored. Steve Chappell and Doug Seibert were named to the SWBL all-star team, and Bob Brundige, Wally Judd, and Jeff Wentworth received honorable mention. In addition Chappell was named to the Dayton Daily News all-star eleven, and received honorable mention in the Greater Miami Valley district.

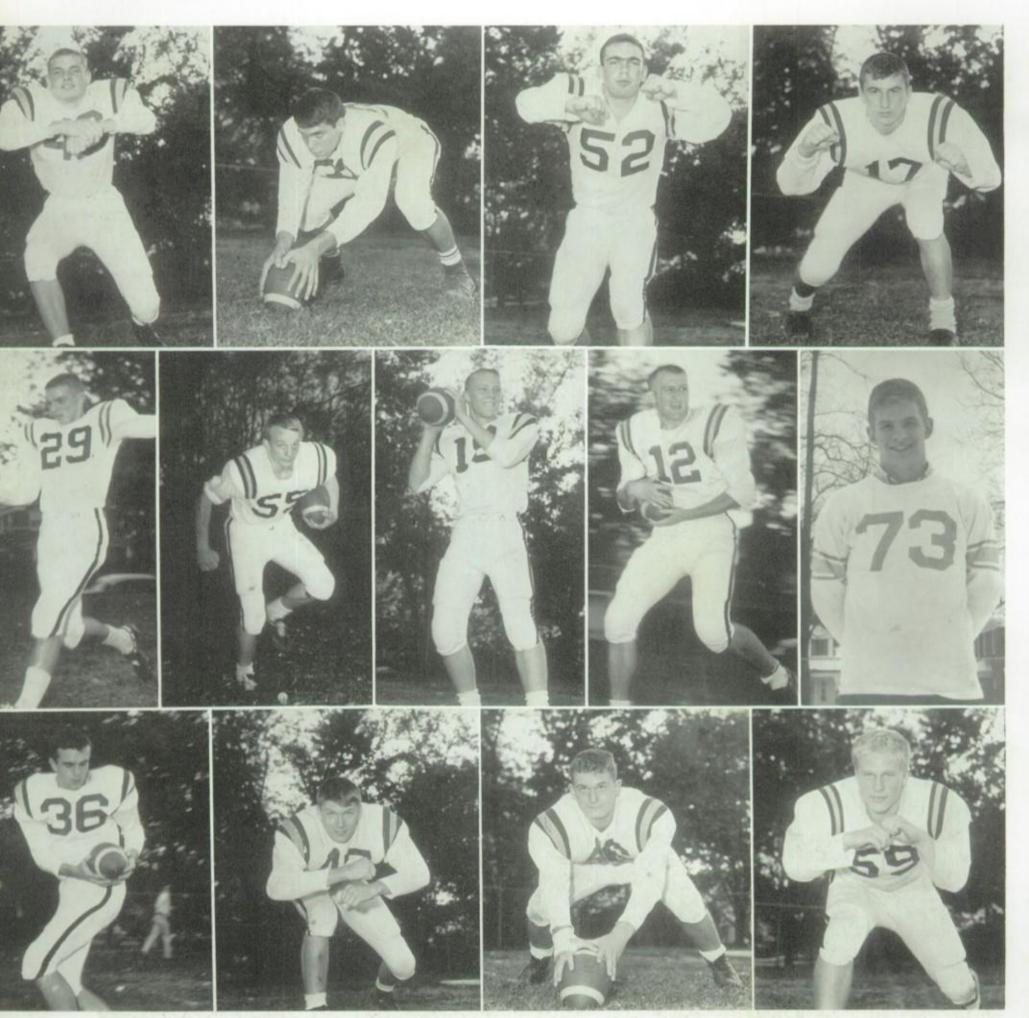

At the annual post-season football banquet various awards and recognition were given to deserving members of the team. Jeff Wentworth received the "most valuable lineman" trophy, Doug Seibert the "most valuable back," and Steve Chappell received the Judge Howell Trophy, which is awarded to the outstanding football player of the year. In ending the 1961 season, the coaches awarded letters to seniors Bob Brundige, Bob Carpenter, Steve Chappell, Jack Cheney, Joe Cockerill, Jim Coughlin, Bill DeMarse, Bill Higgins, Wally Judd, Doug Seibert, Bob Stein, Jeff Wentworth, and John White; junior Doug Lane; sophomores Bill Brundige, Tim Coughlin, Bill Keady, and Kenny Stillwagon; freshmen Bob Coleman, Rich Mandas, Woody Wagner, Mark Wentworth, and Steve Wentworth.

Cross country team champions SWBL

As summer wanes and the cooler fall days begin to appear, the appearance of bright gold sweatsuits is a sure sign that the cross country team is at work. Working out on their own, but advised and coached by Mr. Carr, the harriers sweat to get into shape. This year they were richly rewarded for their labor by winning the SWBL championship. In addition, Dave Wilson lowered the school record for the two-mile course to 10:15 while competing in the league meet, and Wilson, Pete Willsey, and Fred White received medals for outstanding performances the same day.

The nucleus of the team was formed by underclassmen, indicating that there will be more fine teams to come. Wilson, Wilsey, and White consistently had the best times of the team, but they were followed closely by senior Tom Morin, juniors John Tuck and Bill Yarger, and sophomores Armand Morin and Brad Butcher.

In competition with such formidable opposition as Meadowdale, Fairmont, Belmont, and Chaminade, the Jacks started the season. In SWBL competition the harriers outran West Carrollton, West Milton, and Trotwood, and in the league meet held at Welcome Stadium, climaxed the season by winning handily, with 40 points to Northmont's 57 and West Carrollton's 61.

At the completion of the season letters were awarded to Dave Wilson, Pete Wilsey, Fred White, Tom Morin, Armand Morin, John Tuck, Bill Yarger, Brad Butcher, and manager Bruce Snyder.

The 1961-1962 Lumberjack basketball team, led by coach Earl "Red" Gardner, finished strongly to capture a tie for 4th place in the Southwestern Buckeye League, compiling a 5-4 record in league play. Starting slowly against the usual mixture of league and outside competition, the Jacks were 4-6 at the end of ten games, but came back in the final half of the 20-game season, reversing the figures to 6-4 for a 10 won, 10 lost season record.

Getting the season under way on December 1 at Lebanon, Oakwood downed its perennial first-game opponent 39-36. Dave Brumbaugh's 18 points were instrumental in this first victory.

Jeff Kunst's basket in overtime snatched a win for the Jacks against West Carrollton, first SWBL opponent of the year. The Jacks led 26-22 at halftime, but the Pirates would not be sunk, and tied the score at the end of the fourth quarter. Dave Brumbaugh and Bob Brundige led the scoring for Oakwood with 16 and 10 respectively.

Unable to score consistently, Oakwood dropped two games in a row: the first to Tipp City, the second to Fairview. Only Dave Brumbaugh seemed able to hit the basket with regularity; he was high for the Jacks in both games, hitting 17 points the first game, 14 the second.

During Christmas vacation Oakwood played in the Fairmont Holiday Tournament, eventually won by host Fairmont. The Jacks took third.

On January 5 Oakwood played at Northridge in one of the most exciting games of the season. The Polar Bears leaped to a 21-3 lead in the first quarter, and at the half were on top 35-23. They won the third quarter 14-12, and the score advanced to 49-35. But in the final period Oakwood started to roll. Scoring an amazing 22 points, the Jacks held Northridge to only 9, but their effort fell just short of victory, for at the buzzer it was Northridge 58, Oakwood 57.

In SWBL competition for the second week in a row, the Jacks met Vandalia on the Oakwood home court. Although ahead four points at the half, the Jacks slowed down in the third period, and lost the lead. Despite a fine fourth-quarter effort by Oakwood, Vandalia refused to yield the lead, and took the game 50-47.

Pitted against the Eaton Eagles, Oakwood came through victorious, 46-44. The contest broke open in the fourth quarter, the Lumberjacks scoring 18, the Eagles 19. Dave Brumbaugh and Kenny Stillwagon supported the Oakwood offense with 18 and 16 points respectively.

The Lumberjacks came very close to upsetting SWBL-leading Northmont at Oakwood on January 26. As usual, the rival fans jammed the stands; the players really gave them a game to cheer about. Oakwood shocked the Thunderbolts by leading at the first quarter by five, and at the half 28-20. By the end of the third period the Oakwood partisans could almost taste victory, for the Jacks were ahead by 41-32. But Northmont could not be stopped in the final period; the 'Bolts ate away at Oakwood's lead until it disappeared, scoring 17 points to the Jacks' 4, then went on to win 49-45.

Against Northmont, the Lumberjacks had seemingly found their badly needed balanced scoring combination, and at last began to function as an efficient unit. In the next four games, against Trotwood, West Milton, Centerville, and Brookville, the Jacks scored 63, 70, 73, and 71 points, in that order, a huge improvement over earlier performances.

Dave Brumbaugh, Bob Brundige, and Jeff Kunst all scored in double figures in two or more of the four games, and Kenny Stillwagon and Jim Stuhlman made considerable contributions to the scoring.

On the Oakwood floor, in the last scheduled game of the season, the Jacks were disappointed by Fairborn. The Flyers overcame a three-point deficit at halftime to win 55-48. Jeff Kunst had 13 for Oakwood.

In district AA tournament action at the University of Dayton fieldhouse, Oakwood met and vanquished Meadowdale 72-39. Dave Brumbaugh stuffed in 29, his season high, and Kenny Stillwagon collected 10, to lead the Oakwood offense.

Against highly-regarded Dunbar of the Public League, in what was to be the last game of the year, Oakwood fared not too well. The Jacks played well, but trailed most of the game, finally losing 64-45. Bob Brundige hit for 16 points.

The reserve squad posted a record of seven wins, nine losses. Coached by Mr. Carr, they gained experience, a necessary prerogative for any varsity player, and displayed promise of excellent showings in the coming years.

Post-season honors were conferred on many of the Lumberjacks. The Dayton Daily News chose Bob Brundige for the SWBL All-Star team, and later named him honorable mention in the Greater Dayton Area; Dave Brumbaugh was chosen second team SWBL. The League coaches named both Brundige and Brumbaugh to their All-Star team. On March 29 at the annual banquet in honor of those connected with Oakwood basketball, varsity letters were awarded to seniors Bob Brundige, Tom Douglass, Jeff Kunst, and Dave White; juniors Dave Brumbaugh, Steve Irwin, and Rick Riedmiller; sophomores Kenny Stillwagon and Jim Stuhlman, to close the 1961-62 basketball season.

LORDS reign over intramural leagues, teachers

Rivalries flourished in the intramural leagues this year. Organized by Mr. Wysocki, the National and American leagues each played a six game schedule, ending in a four team elimination tournament. Doug Lane's "Spanish Flyers" took Dick Tuck's sophomore team to gain the American League title; Jeff Wentworth's "Lords" beat Jeff Daneman's team for the National League crown. In the tournament finals the "Lords" triumphed over the "Flyers" by a score of 36-25, and thereby gained the honor of playing the teachers in the annual studentfaculty game, a benefit for the American Field Service.

The teachers fielded a fine team, and even managed to hold the lead early in the game, but the "Lords'" fast break and hustle eventually wore down the faculty endurance; the final score was "Lords" 44, faculty 32.

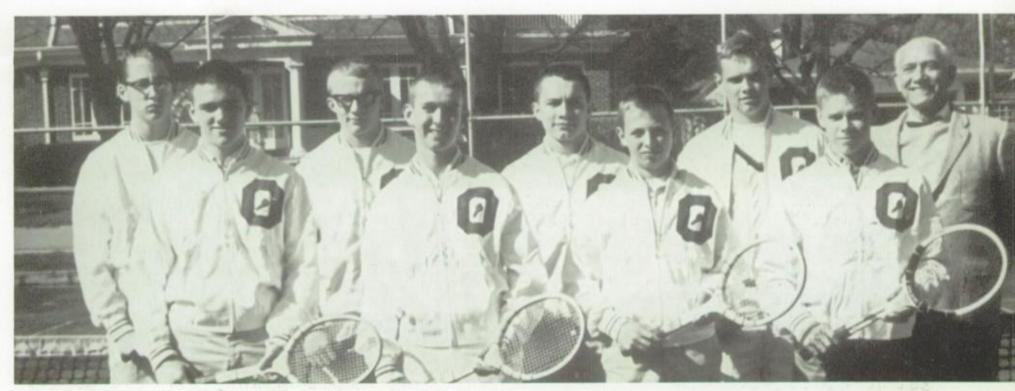

The Junior High intramural tournaments were won in the ninth and eighth grades by Pete Thomas' and Marty Erbaugh's teams, respectively.

Built around a nucleus of four returning lettermen, seniors Bob Brundige and Bill Higgins, and sophomores Bill Brundige and Mark Stone, this year's tennis team promises to repeat the successful performances of Oakwood teams of the past. Holding down the first and second singles positions are Higgins and Bob Brundige, respectively, with third singles going to sophomore Richie Lange. First doubles is covered by lettermen Bill Brundige and Mark Stone; second doubles, by Ted Champion and Pete Thomas. Freshman Jim Tuck is an alternate. The balance of experience and youth assures Oakwood of a good showing in this year's matches.

Last year's net squad compiled a perfect 15-0 record in competition with some of the best tennis teams in the area and the state. Individual members of the teams also distinguished themselves. Playing singles, John Sisson won the District tournament and went on to the semi-final round of the state tournament before being eliminated. Doubles team Bo Barker and Dave Thomas did even better. Victorious in the Districts, they went all the way to the State finals before losing, to complete a tennis season of which Oakwood can truly be proud.

The 1962 Oakwood track team faces what will probably be a rebuilding year. The graduation of many of the members of coach Carr's championship 1961 team will undoubtedly affect this year's team performance, but the outlook is far from poor. A fine group of senior lettermen backed up by juniors and sophomores strong in their events can hardly help producing another victorious track season.

On the track, Bob Brundige holds the 880 yard run, Bob Carpenter and Bob Cowden, the 440, and John White dominates the dashes. Top contenders for the mile run seem to be Dave Wilson, Pete Willsey, Tom Morin, and Armand Morin.

In the field events, Wally Judd and Jim Carey vie for supremecy in the pole vault, Tom Hagar handles the discus, Kenny Stillwagon and Carey compete in the broadjump and Dave Brumbaugh controls the high jump.

The 1962 team looks forward to attempting to maintain the standard of excellence set up for them by the 1961 unit, the Southwestern Buckeye League champions. In addition to the championship the team took thirteen trophies (five for the school trophy cases, eight for individuals), sixty medals, and thirty-five ribbons in the toughest competition to be found anywhere in the state. Five school records were also broken or tied: In the 440 yard shuttle relay Bart Bartholomew, Butch Brown, Tom Hall, and Bob Stutz lowered the time to 42.9 seconds; in the 880 yard relay the same team of Bartholomew, Brown, Hall, and Stutz ran a 1:32.9 for the new record; Mike Creager heaved the shot 51' 5 3/4", threw the discus 145'2", to break two records; and in the 120 low hurdles Tom Casey was timed at 13.7 seconds, which ties the school record that he already holds. John White set a SWBL record in the league meet with a 51.4 second time for the 440 yard dash.

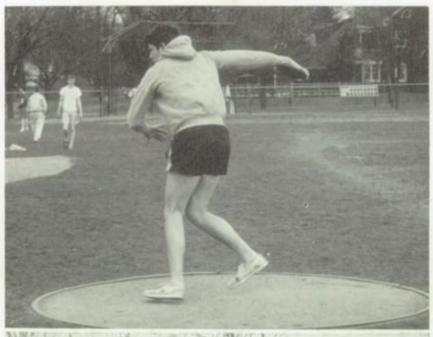

The team won four of six dual and tri-meets, and made excellent showings in invitational meets and relays, such as those held annually at Trotwood, Xenia, Troy, and Welcome Stadium. Mike Creager and Dave Brumbaugh, by placing in the District meet, were able to compete in the State meet, where each placed sixth in his event, the shot put for Creager and the high jump for Brumbaugh, to complete a very successful track season at Oakwood.

SPRINTERS John White, Bob Brundige get off to a good start in the 100 yard dash.

DISCUS THROWER Tom Hagar warms up during an after-school practice session.

Baseball Team looks forward to fine season

With the advent of the longer and warmer days of spring come the signs of baseball activity at Oakwood. Custodians getting the field in shape, chalk talks on days when the weather will not permit outdoor practice, muddy cleats in the locker room, the players' motley assortment of practice uniforms—all indicate the arrival of another baseball season. This year so many hopeful players responded to the announcement of the first baseball meeting, and the subsequent first practices of the season, that coach Armbruster was forced to cut the squad to twenty players. The quality of the personnel surviving the cut was such that the prospect for a fine season is excellent.

In the infield, sophomore Jim Stuhlman and junior Tom Thomas contend for first base, and seniors Dave Nielsen, Doug Seibert, and Steve Chappell hold down second base, third base, and shortstop, respectively. The outfield is covered by sophomore Brad Butcher and juniors Doug Lane, John Landis, and Rick Riedmiller, who also pitches. The pitching staff—senior Dave White, sophomore Bill Keadey, and Riedmiller throw to sophomore catcher Steve Hayes.

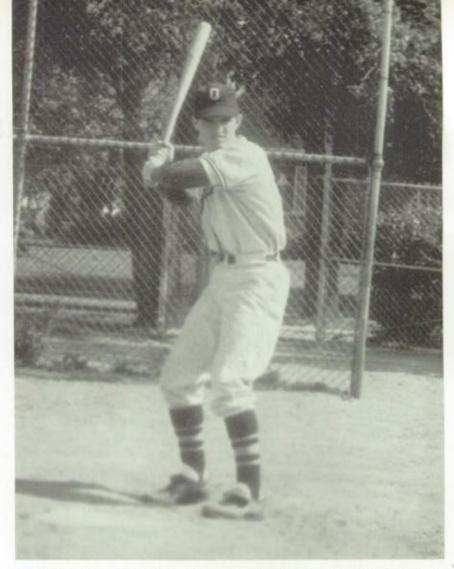

SCOOP TO SECOND executed by Steve Chappell.

Last year's Lumberjack baseball team fared not too well in its eleven-game schedule. Playing against each of the ten other teams in the SWBL, Oakwood's season record stood at three wins, nine losses. On last year's team, however, were many inexperienced baseball players, who this year have returned for their second season. Since experience is a large factor in producing a successful baseball team, the record this year should be somewhat different from last year.

Also aiding Oakwood's baseball prospects in the coming years will be the Junior High baseball team, formed this year and coached by Mr. Bigelow. The Junior High team, plus the organizations in the grade schools, should provide a very beneficial and effective "feeder" system for the varsity baseball team.

SWBL champs attempt repeat performance

With a mixture of veteran players and promising newcomers, coach Gardner is looking forward to a good season in golf this year. Returning lettermen Tom Pavey, Phil French, and Allan Lewis are backed up by senior Bill DeMarse and freshman Tim Downey; having survived the tournament and challenge rounds used in choosing the team, these players will probably see the most action in match and tournament play during the season.

Last year was a building year for the linksmen. Starting the season with only one experienced player, Tom Pavey, the team played an eight-match schedule, finishing with three victories and five defeats.

In competition for the Southwestern Buckeye League championship, the top foursome from each competing team plays eighteen holes, with the team having the best total score winning the championship. The 1961 Oakwood squad shot a 335 stroke total, two strokes better than runnerup Northmont, to clinch the league title.

Later in the season the team competed in the District matches, and in May went on to the Tri-State Tournament held in Hamilton, Ohio.

PAVEY FOLLOWS THROUGH on long shot to the green.

Junior athletes gain skill, experience

Playing a seven-game schedule, the freshman football team compiled a record of four wins, two losses, and one tie. Coached by Mr. Stuckey, the freshmen were victorious over West Carrollton, Brookville, Trotwood, and Northridge, but lost to West Milton and John Carroll, and tied Vandalia. Several key players were lost due to injuries during the season.

Mr. Reichert's seventh and eighth grade football teams, playing both together and separately, compiled respective records of 0-4-1 and 4-1-0 against a mixture of SWBL and out-of-league schools.

Under the tutelage of Mr. Armbruster the freshman basketball team came out on top of its season by a record of seven wins, four losses. With victories over Trotwood, West Carrollton, Fairborn, Northridge (twice), Beavercreek, and Vandalia, and losses to Trotwood, West Carrollton, Fairborn, and Xenia Woodrow Wilson, the freshmen showed much promise of fine future varsity performances.

Mr. Stuckey's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams played ten- and fourteen-game seasons, respectively. The seventh graders won three and lost seven; the eighth graders won five and lost nine. The eighth grade team also took part in a tournament held at Wayne, but was defeated by Beavercreek.

Hopeful athletes responded enthusiastically, and in large numbers to the announcement of the first Junior High track practice. Coached by Mr. Reichert, the team is put through the rigors of conditioning and fundamentals in preparation for the rapidly approaching meets.

The Junior High tennis team will be practicing its strokes and increasing its skill with the assistance of Mrs. Buck this year. With many seventh and eighth graders playing regularly, the junior netters can look forward to acquiring the experience so necessary for successful teams in the coming years.

Junior High boys showed much enthusiasm for spring sports this year. As warm weather began to reappear, more than sixty boys showed up for the initial practices of the tennis, track, and baseball teams. As is customary with those still learning, they did not always win, but the time, enthusiasm, and vigor they put into the spring sports practice sessions was certainly not wasted, for the skills they developed while in Junior High will soon be sustaining Oakwood's varsity teams.

Hockey Jills go undefeated

An undefeated season of eight games proved to the hockey Jills the value of running laps and practicing diligently to perfect drives and dribbles. The Reserves, like the Varsity, had a successful season with seven wins and one loss. Both teams were coached by Miss Strominger.

The Varsity Jills displayed their new navy blue tunics in the first game of the season. The jumper-like uniforms helped set off the spark of enthusiasm which gave the girls spirit to play an undefeated season. The junior members of last year's team had worked to obtain the outfits and were rewarded this year for their efforts.

Fans turned out to cheer their teams on in the 1961 version of the annual Lumberjill-Dragon battle. The Varsity tied Fairmont, Oakwood's traditional rival, in a thrilling game, hard-fought by both sides.

Seniors Karen Alexander, Carol Bonner, Cindy Harvey, Georgia Hassink, Patsy Herrman, Sarah Houston, Lynn Johnson, Suzy Kling, and Carolyn Woodward; and juniors Pam Gregg, Margot Herbruck, and often Peg De-Marse made up the first string. Working together as a defensive unit, the girls permitted only five goals to be scored against them, while on offense they scored twenty-eight points for the season.

Jills volley for winning season

The Volleyball Jills continued to better their playing streak this season. This was the third year that Oakwood has had an interscholastic team, and this was the most successful. The Varsity won four of their five games. The Reserves were victorious in three out of five games. Returning players Georgia Hassink, Cathy Calvert, Margaret McSwiney, Kathryn Nagle, Judy Henderson, and Peg Fogt worked hard for their winning season.

The managers for the team were Liz Johnson, Anne Ash, and Vicki Honeyman. Their job was to sit through each practice, keep score, get and serve after-game refreshments, and check attendance.

The last game of the season—after the girls had played Fairmont, Miamisburg, Centerville, and Fairborn—was the most enjoyable. The team was matched against faculty members Mr. Runkel, Miss Strominger, Mr. Spargur, Mrs. Braun, Mr. Potter, Dr. Pfleger, Mrs. Goeckler, and Mr. Cato. The Varsity won in an exciting match which was played out to the full three games; however, the Reserves were not so fortunate, and they lost.

HARD AT WORK, Georgia Hassink practices for the next game.

TERRY HEITZ PRACTICES for the big game.

The basketball team, composed of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and one senior, under the coaching of Miss Strominger, won three and lost four games this season. The Reserves won five games of their seven.

The girls practiced diligently at least twice a week and had a game once a week. They played Madison, West Carrollton, Centerville, Vandalia-Butler, Fairmont, Northridge, and Indian Hill. Most of these games were played away from home.

Joanne Darrow, Sally Shaw, and Mary Lou Mellinger were the managers. They were required to attend every practice and do odd jobs for the team and Miss Strominger.

Cathy Calvert and Lois Kievit were especially rewarded for their hard work by tying for the highest individual scoring average of the team -11.9 points.

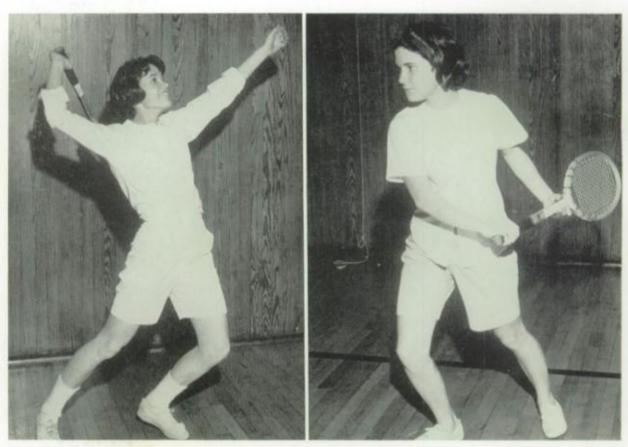

In March there was a banquet for members of both volleyball and basketball teams. Both teams bought Miss Strominger a gift as a token of their appreciation for her coaching.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM — THIRD ROW: J. Darrow, Shaw, A. Murrell, P. Storms, B. Mellinger, Honeyman, Heitz, Chamberlain, Wilcher, Jorgensen, Wysocki, M. Mellinger. SECOND ROW:

Briner, K. O'Hara, Dooley, Weaver, Kirgis, Parker, Kievit, Hafsted. FIRST ROW: Halsted, Bergen, Gregg, Hassink, Tantum, Updegraff, Carey, Strominger.

Net Jills smash to victorious season

The girls' tennis teams adjusted to their rough schedule well this year. They played in nine matches, which was the greatest number ever to be played in one year. These matches were with Troy, Monroe, Indian Hill, Springfield North, and their annual rival, Middletown. Also the Senior High team participated in a Round Robin Match at Middletown against Toledo Rodgers and Middletown.

Each match consists of six individual matches, three singles and two doubles. The three highest girls on the ladder play singles. The fourth and fifth and the sixth and seventh positions play doubles. The girls in eighth and ninth positions were the reserves who filled in for any absentees. A girl could change her position on the ladder at any time by challenging someone on a higher rung and beating her.

Returning players on the Senior High team were Lois Kievit, Cathy Calvert, Paula Stone, Karen Alexander, Georgia Hassink, Chris Holmes, Margot Herbruck, and Sarah Houston. Girls new to the team were Jane Leland, Linda Downey, and Sherry Jorgensen. Since there were only seven girls on the team, positions changed frequently as a result of challenge matches. However, at some time during the season, each girl had a chance to play on the team.

GAA plays

During a Saturday in November at Columbus, many GAA members watched Ohio State defeat Iowa. It was Ohio State's football homecoming and a very colorful game.

The highlight of the Christmas season occurred the day before vacation at the GAA party when Santa Claus arrived with presents. "Jolly Old St. Nick" was portrayed by Carolyn Woodward.

In the spring two busloads of girls spent a day at Coney Island in Cincinnati. They enjoyed a picnic lunch and the many rides, especially the roller coaster, which they frequented the most. This occasion was the most noted event of the year.

Selling sweatshirts and booster bars were the projects undertaken by the girls.

Bowling was a favorite sport for the members. Intramurals were played for ten weeks; during that time there were matches to determine the winning team of each of the three leagues. There was a play-off to find the champion team. Each team consisted of four members and a substitute, and all games were played on Saturday mornings.

In January there was a modern dance recital in the gym. Girls were chosen by Miss Strominger from gym classes for their originality in making up their dances.

A Big Sister Tea in May welcomed freshman girls into the club. The new members learned about the point system for participation in sports activities. To earn points, a girl must join intramural and/or interscholastic teams. Twenty points are needed to remain in the club, and forty to receive a pin.

Intramurals played a big part in the activities of the girls. There were teams for basketball, hockey, volley-ball, badminton, and table tennis. Awards were received by all champions in a special award assembly at the end of the year.

GAA OFFICERS—Michaelson, Intramural Chairman; Lane, Senior Point Chairman; Douglass, Social Chairman; Herrman, President; Mokrzycki, Treasurer; Oelman, Junior Point Chairman; Loucks, Sophomore Point Chairman.

PEG FOGT ROLLS the ball for a strike as an admiring audience looks on.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS give their silent cheer. CLOCKWISE FROM BOTTOM: Patsy Herrman, Woodward, St. Pierre, Sue Altenburg, Fanning, Carneiro-Ribeiro, Zeigler, Yoder, Cahill, Liz Johnson, Taylor, Lane, Brickley, Harris.

SELLING SWEATSHIRTS for G.A.A. are Patsy Herrman, Kit Benham, Barb Mokrzycki, and Maggie McSwiney.

AS TIME GOES BY

Representing the working hours of local businessmen converted to money and donated to the ACORN, and the time staff members spent in getting them, are the advertisement. The nine-to-five or nine-to-nine hours of our community business establishments are represented for us here in their ads, which are to be read—and their advertisers patronized—as time goes by.

How will you use

Today the Class of '62 joins a distinguished group of graduates throughout the nation.

Your most priceless graduation gift is TIME. You can look forward to approximately 100,000 working hours before you reach retirement age.

YOUR 100,000 HOURS?

Actually, 100,000 hours is not a great deal of time. You cannot afford to make many false starts. You should do some hard thinking right now, decide what you want to do in life, and then plan how to achieve your goal.

No matter what field you choose . . . business or medicine, electronics or finance, engineering or the social sciences . . . fantastic changes are being made. Trained minds are needed more than ever before to maintain this progress and make the World of Tomorrow a better place in which to live.

How you invest your 100,000 working hours will be the answer to how successful you become in whatever field of endeavor you select for your life's work.

A final word from the staff

The staff thanks Rike's Photography Studio, Magee Brothers, Mr. Richard Brier of Associates Engraving Company, S. K. Smith Company, and the high school faculty and staff for their co-operation in the production of the 1962 ACORN.

The 1961-1962 Oakwood school year is now almost over. No second of it will ever come again. All that remains of this year is each student's memory of it. Everyone—from the seventh grader who has experienced his first year at Oakwood to the senior who has just finished his last class here—will have varied recollections.

By compiling a record of the people and events that were an inherent part of Oakwood High School this year, the staff hopes that by leafing through your 1962 ACORN now and in years to come, you will always be able to remember Oakwood in 1961-1962
